Creator God, source of all life,
We praise and thank you for the many gifts of this day.
For the blessing of your presence
In each star in the sky and every flower in the field;
In each creature who roams our common home and every grain of wheat that nourishes;
In each drop of water which sustains us and every person who loves and cares for us.

God of mercy and compassion, forgive us for the times that we fail to recognize your presence among us.
Forgive us our blindness to the daily miracle of creation.
Forgive us our deafness to the cries of Earth and those made poor by our greed.
Forgive us our hardness of heart that separates us one from another

God of abundance, we pray, give us the grace to know that we are ONE in you.
Give us the grace
To welcome your creatures abandoned and forgotten
To care for our common home; and
To live in right relationship with you, our God,
    with neighbors near and far, and with all of your wondrous creation.

Give us the grace to become your beloved community.
Gracious God, we ask this through the power of your Great and Holy Spirit whose breath gives life to the world.

The Laudato Si’ Goals

Respond to the Cry of the Earth . . . push further in addressing climate change, biodiversity loss and ecological sustainability.

Respond to the Cry of the Poor . . . pay even closer attention to the poor, with particular attention to women, children, migrants, refugees, and indigenous communities.

Ecological Economics . . . boldly promote transitions to green, more circular economies.

Adopt Sustainable Lifestyles . . . insist on the needed connection between structural change and personal change and make mindful, daily lifestyle adjustments.

Ecological Education . . . continually evaluate curricular and institutional reforms that foster greater ecological awareness and action in the spirit of integral ecology.

Ecological Spirituality . . . do more to put people in contact with the natural world and help evoke the spirit of awe and gratitude for the gift of nature that lies deep within us.

Community Engagement and Participatory Action . . . make it so more of your needs are received and your gifts are shared with your local community.
Most universities already have programs dedicated to environmental sustainability. Why add the 7-Year Journey?

Pope Francis' 7-Year Journey is ‘value added’ to any university’s existing or planned response to our world’s mounting environmental and social crises. The Journey

1. Further enriches a university’s existing environmental programs and activities by uniting them in a shared understanding of and commitment to integral ecology.

2. Bolsters existing and new transformative nonviolent actions that advance each of Pope Francis’ 7 specific Laudato Si’ Goals, several of which are not stressed in conventional sustainability programs.

3. Creates opportunities for a faith-engaged ecological conversion that opens minds and hearts to the sacred task of caring for our common home.

4. Brings universities into a global partnership of universities striving together to do the magis--the more--in healing the Earth and human society.
THE JOURNEY

Year 1
Universities make a good faith commitment to the 7-Year Journey and forms a group of faculty, students, administrators, staff, and neighbors who create a Laudato Si’ Action Plan of transformative nonviolent actions that integrally advance each of Pope Francis’ 7 Laudato Si’ Goals.

Years 2-6
Universities implement, assess, and adjust the actions. They annually reporting progress to the Vatican Dicastery for Promoting Integral Human Development.

Year 7
Universities celebrate accomplishments and receive formal recognition from the Vatican as Laudato Si’ Universities.

Before drawing these stakeholders together around participation in the Journey, there needs to be a 'good faith commitment' made to the Journey by a university's president or administrative equivalent.
Formal University Participation Starts with a Good Faith Commitment . . .

. . . made by a University President when signing a 'Commitment Letter' addressed to Cardinal Turkson.
His Eminence,
Cardinal Turkson
Prefetto, Dicastero per lo Sviluppo Umano Integrale
Palazzo San Calisto
00120 Città del Vaticano

Your Eminence:
At this time, ______________ (name of institution), makes a commitment to participate in Pope Francis' 7-Year Journey Towards Integral Ecology and understands that the Vatican Dicastery for Promoting Integral Human Development will officially enroll our university in the Journey beginning November 14, 2021.

We understand that as a Laudato Si' University, we will chart our own course through the Journey, with the assistance of the Laudato Si' Action Platform. Over this next year we will gather a group of faculty, students, administrators, staff, and neighbors to develop a Laudato Si' Action Plan for our university that will integrally and boldly advance each of the 7 Laudato Si' Goals:

- Respond to the Cry of the Earth
- Respond to the Cry of the Poor
- Foster Ecological Economics
- Adopt a Sustainable Lifestyle
- Offer Ecological Education
- Develop Ecological Spirituality
- Support Local Communities

We further understand that our university will annually report to the Dicastery on its progress and participate in communication with other universities on the Journey around the world. In Year 7, we will celebrate our accomplishments and those of our fellow universities and enjoy Pope Francis' formal recognition of our work as a Laudato Si' University.

We appreciate this opportunity to advance Pope Francis' powerful Laudato Si' message and are pleased to make this commitment.

UNIVERSITY PATHWAYS

A guidebook for Pope Francis’ 7-year journey towards integral ecology.

Pope Francis’ 7-Year Journey Towards Integral Ecology puts his landmark encyclical, Laudato Si’, into action. Families, dioceses, schools, universities, hospitals, business, religious orders, and community organizations are now challenged to live the message ‘to heal the Earth.

University Pathways is the guidebook for colleges and universities taking up the challenge.”
Thank you!
